US Ready to Conduct NATO Summit Talks

PARIS (AP)—The United States is willing to go ahead with next month's NATO summit conference with Vice-President Nixon sitting in for ailing President Eisenhower, a spokesman for the U. S. NATO delegation said today.

Whether the conference will be held on that basis is up to the other 14 nations in the alliance. First reported reaction was that they would agree.

Informed sources in London said the British government feels the conference should go on as scheduled with Nixon as the top U. S. representative. They said the British view was that the meeting still should be held at the heads of government level and that there should be no postponement. Similar reactions were expressed by France, Italy and the Netherlands.

The U. S. spokesman said the American offer will be communicated to other NATO nations tomorrow at the regular NATO Council session here.

He said those instructions were relayed to Frederic Nolting, deputy U. S. representative for NATO. Nolting will be substituting at tomorrow's meeting for the permanent U. S. delegate, W. Randolph Burgess, who now is in Washington.

It was not disclosed who in Washington issued the instructions to Nolting. Presumably they came from Secretary of State Dulles and Nixon himself, with Eisenhower's approval.

In Rome, Italian Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella said he believes the Paris NATO meeting should be held as scheduled.

Dutch government officials were reported to favor going ahead.

There was some speculation that only foreign ministers might meet next month, as originally scheduled, and the summit conference of presidents and prime ministers would be delayed until spring.

This development, however, might let out of the NATO sails some of the wind created by Russian missile threats and launching of earth satellites.

Expressions of sympathy for the president came from NATO capitals and other parts of the world. One, that represented the feelings of most messages, said "I sincerely pray that you will fully regain your health soon." It was sent by Nobusuke Kishi, premier of Japan.

President Giovanni Gronchi said he hoped the President "will soon be back at his desk in the service not only of his country, but of all peoples' world peace."

In foreign ministries, officials wondered just what Eisenhower's absence would do to plans to revitalize the alliance.

Mystery of Crying Tot Is Cleared Up

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP)—Who was the two-year-old boy and why did he shout "Daddy" every time he was taken to a studio window?

The double mystery confronted radio station WCRA yesterday.

The station broadcast a description of the tot, who was crying and without a coat or hat when found wandering near the studio.

Claudine Rush, the station's bookkeeper, noticed in trying to calm the boy that he cried except when she took him to the window.

Mrs. Ransom Wiedner, recognizing the broadcast description of her son, soon arrived at the station.

Then she cleared up the rest of the mystery by going to the window. Her husband was installing a transformer on a utility pole across the street.

Algeria Problem Tackled

UN Diplomats Work Amid Possibility Of Mediation Move

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. diplomats tackle the festering Algerian situation today amid new talk of mediation between France and its North African rebels.

The heated question was before the U. N. Assembly Political Committee for renewed debate.

Arab delegates expressed hope that the United States and Britain would support mediation of the three-year-old rebellion. The delegates attached considerable importance to current talks in Washington of King Mohammed V of Morocco.

The King and President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia offered their good offices last week for negotiations in which France would accept Algerian sovereignty as a starting point. The French, who contend Algeria is part of metropolitan France, rejected the offer.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said Morocco and Tunisia are not neutral in the struggle of their Arab neighbors. Pineau was scheduled to present the French position in the 82-nation committee's debate.

The New York Times said Pineau had told Latin-American, British Commonwealth and Western European delegates that France would be willing to admit up to 10,000 observers for proposed Algerian elections.

The French are insisting the observers come from nations with free elections, the Times said, thus barring Communist and some Arab nations.

Arab leaders reportedly want to see a North African federation formed to include Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia.

Moroccan and Tunisian delegates, who were to present Algeria's position, were reported working on a resolution calling for a cease-fire. It also would invite Algeria and France to enter negotiations aimed at self-determination for the French North African province.

This goes a good deal farther than the resolution approved by last year's Assembly which merely called for a just and peaceful solution of the dispute. Arab diplomats said they were determined to put in a stronger proposal this year on grounds that no attempt was made to implement last year's call and that the fighting is more bitter than ever.

He Confers With Adams And Nixon

Spends a Half Hour Signing Documents, Initialing Another

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Eisenhower eased back into the duties of his office today, less than 24 hours after he suffered a slight stroke.

The President conferred for 15 minutes with Vice President Nixon and chief presidential aide Sherman Adams. The White House said they talked about "everything under the sun."

Earlier Eisenhower spent a half hour with White House staff secretary Andrew J. Goodpastor, signing a dozen documents and initialing another.

Eisenhower's doctor announced earlier that the President had 10 hours of almost continuous sleep during the night and showered and shaved himself before eating a normal breakfast.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Nixon and Adams conferred with the President while he was working on a painting in the studio across from his bedroom.

Hagerty said in answer to questions that the three discussed official business including the 1958-59 budget, next month's NATO meeting and legislative matters which will be discussed at next week's White House conference of leaders from the Capitol.

It has not been indicated whether Eisenhower, who suffered a blockage of a brain artery Monday, will be able to meet personally with the Congress leaders.

The chief executive's brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, was having lunch with the President today.

Hagerty told a news conference shortly after noon the President has not discussed with anyone the possibility he might have to delegate his powers because of his illness.

Hagerty also said he does not expect to be able to say before tomorrow, at the earliest, whether the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will be going to their Gettysburg, Pa. farm in the immediate future. Hagerty said they definitely will spend Thanksgiving in the White House.

Hagerty said Eisenhower talked to Goodpastor about "some pending government business" as well as signing and initialing the papers.

Earlier, the President's doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, had reported he slept well and awoke refreshed.

A brief medical bulletin said Eisenhower "took his usual shower and shave and just had a normal breakfast."

Hagerty described the chief executive as being in fine spirits, and amused by a continuing slight difficulty in pronouncing hard words, a result of his illness.

Hagerty said Vice President Nixon was spending much of the day in the White House but had not seen the President. He said Secretary of State Dulles and Atty. Gen. Rogers also met together at the White House.

Eisenhower signed his name 12 times and initialed a 13th document, Hagerty said.

Crime Spree Is Over For Three Teenagers Arrested in Kansas

COFFEYVILLE, Kan. (AP) — A crime spree ended today for three Oklahoma teenagers.

Chief of Police Art Gamble said Eddie Lee Russell, 16, David Strayer, 17, and Benny Jones, 15, all of Pryor, Okla., were arrested in a Coffeyville hotel room.

Gamble said Russell and Strayer, serving time for burglary charges, walked away from a county work detail at Pryor yesterday.

They were met by Jones, according to Gamble, and in a few hours succeeded in stealing a car at Claremore, Okla., guns, ammunition, knives and watches from a Sperry, Okla., hardware store, and at gunpoint took about $200 from a service station attendant at Bartlesville, Okla.

Gamble said the youths were spotted driving near Coffeyville but managed to abandon their car and escape on foot.

A short time later a Coffeyville patrolman spotted the boys as they registered at the Lee Hotel. They were taken into custody without a struggle.

Voodoo Jets Regain Speed Record for AF

Previous Mark Goes Down by 4½ Mins. In Trans-US Flight

NEW YORK (AP)—The Air Force took back the coast-to-coast speed record from the Navy, flying from Los Angeles to New York in 3 hours, 17 minutes, 29.2 seconds.

A sleek Voodoo jet piloted by Capt. Ray W. Schreengost Jr., 31, of Kittingham, Pa., roared by the control tower at Floyd Bennett Field at 1:13:29.2 p.m. to set the record.

The previous record was 3 hours, 22 minutes, set by an F8U Crusader last July.

The second plane, piloted by Capt. Robert J. Kilpatrick, 32, Bristol, Conn., left at 7:05:29.3 a. m.

Two others will land at Maguire Air Force Base, after flashing across Floyd Bennett Field. Pilots of these two are Capt. Robert M. Sweet, 30, Barronett, Wis., and Lt. Gustav B. Klatt, 29, San Marcos, Tex.

The Navy records are: Los Angeles-New York, 3 hours, 22 minutes, 723 m.p.h. average, F8U Crusader.

New York-Los Angeles, 5 hours, 14.54 minutes, 469.383 m.p.h. average, A3D Skywarrior.

Round trip, 9 hours, 31.35 minutes, 513.496 m.p.h. average, A3D Skywarrior.

Two other pilots are "spares" and will fly to the first refueling rendezvous only, unless something goes wrong with any of the other planes. The standby pilots are Capt. Donald D. Hawkins, 33, Springfield, Mo., and Capt. Robert E. Burkhardt, 31, Alliance, Ohio. All the fliers are with the 363rd Tactical Reconnaissance Wing, Shaw Air Force Base, S. C.

The giant jets participating in the flight, called Operation Sun Run, flew at about 40,000 feet, and were refueled by Boeing KC135 Stratotankers at about 35,000 feet.

Kills Wife and Self In Argument Over Toy

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — Chester Daugherty shot his wife Flora to death, then killed himself late last night in an argument over a broken Christmas toy for one of their four children, police said.

According to accounts from relatives and friends, police said, Daugherty, 34, an unemployed construction worker, and his wife, 36, were wrapping Christmas presents when Daugherty broke one. He and his wife began arguing, and Daugherty left to go drinking.

He returned home later, police reported, and the argument resumed. Daugherty reached for a shotgun, shot his wife in the stomach, and then fired into his own head, officers said.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Forest Service hopes to gain complete control sometime today over a fire that has run through 25,000 acres of timber and brush northeast of Los Angeles.

The big blaze, which broke out last Thursday, was reported 85 per cent controlled last night. Firefighters were still having trouble with one hotspot at the 6,000-foot level in the San Gabriel Mountains. More than 1,000 men remained on duty.

Will Confer On Opening More Graves

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Stewart Honeck planned to confer today with District Attorneys Earl Kileen of Waushara County and John Haka of adjacent Portage County on the question of opening more graves which Ed Gein said he had plundered.

Any decision, Honeck said, would be made by mutual agreement of his office and local authorities.

Honeck also announced that another lie detector test would be given Gein, 51-year-old bachelor of rural Plainfield who has admitted killing two middle-aged women and robbing the graves of nine others.

Honeck said the purpose of the additional tests was to determine whether Gein was involved in other killings. Gein is undergoing 30 days of mental observation.

Gein's attorney William Belter of Wautoma, said he had no objection to more lie tests for Gein but that he would doubt their reliability if Gein is judged insane.

"Gein is apparently trying to tell people honestly what happened," Belter said. "But perhaps he doesn't remember some things, and other facts may be perverted in his mind. If that is so, what value is a lie detector test?"

Two graves in Plainfield Cemetery were opened Monday and the caskets were found empty. Kileen said the opening of the graves verified Gein's story and added, "I won't open any more if I can help it."

Okinawans Petition For Mayor's Return

TOKYO (AP)—Okinawan residents in Tokyo today petitioned the U. S. Embassy here to repeal the recent ouster of Naha's leftist Mayor Kamejiri Senaga.

The spokesman for the Okinawa Residents Assn. said, "The United States itself offends the Lincoln spirit. We demand the immediate repeal of Moore's order, the revision of election law."

Senaga was ousted from the mayor's post after U. S. High Commissioner Lt. Gen. James E. Moore made four changes in the law which made possible the official's removal by Naha's City Assembly.

Syria Makes Accusation Of War Plots

It Warns Turkey To Withdraw Troops On Syrian Frontier

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria has accused Israel of planning new border aggressions and has warned Turkey to withdraw troops massed along the Syrian frontier or face a new fight in the U. N. General Assembly.

A Syrian army spokesman said the U. N. truce observation organization has been notified of "increased Israeli provocations for further aggressions being prepared against Syria now."

The spokesman said Israeli fire repeatedly had been aimed at positions inside Syrian territory.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman told a news conference that 60,000 Turkish troops are still massed along the northwest Syrian border.

If they are not withdrawn, the spokesman said, Syria is determined to renew before Christmas its complaint against Turkey in the U. N. General Assembly.

These developments, along with a new Soviet note to Turkey warning against continued pressure on Syria and fresh tension between Israel and Jordan, shaped up into ominous prelude for U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's Middle East peacemaking trip.

Hammarskjold leaves New York Friday, principally to look into the Jordan-Israel dispute over Israeli convoys to Mt. Scopus, an Israeli enclave at Jerusalem reached through Jordan territory. The Jordanians have turned back a convoy because they said it carried forbidden benzene.

The Israelis have taken strong exception to condemnation of Israel by the Jordan-Israel Mixed Armistice Commission for a Nov. 21 border incident. The commission, with the Israeli delegation absent, upheld a Jordan complaint that a 65-year-old farmer was taken into Israel by an Israeli border policeman under threat of force.

Specialist Warns Red Trade Offers Mask Plans for Domination

MANILA (AP)—An American foreign affairs specialist warned SEATO nation delegates today that Soviet trade offers mask Communist plans for world domination.

Prof. George Taylor, director of the Far East and Russian Institute of the University of Washington, also said Russia controls 50 per cent of the world opium trade, which he said is used as a weapon in subversion.

Taylor gave the main lecture at the second of a four-day SEATO seminar at Baguio on Communist Asian cold war tactics. Taylor said the Russians were offering economic aid to gain a contact with neutral nations and form a base for subversion.

Ike to Call Signals

Vice President Nixon Steps Gingerly Into Stand-In Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon stepped gingerly into the role of a part-time substitute for ailing President Eisenhower today with clear notice Eisenhower will continue to call the signals on government policies.

A proposal by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) that Nixon take over for the stricken President at two scheduled briefings of congressional leaders next week seemed likely to get Eisenhower's approval.

Nixon said the meetings will be held but added he did not know whether he would preside.

Congressmen Watch Jupiter Rocket Fizzle

MISSILE TEST CENTER, CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Six congressmen watched last night as the Army fired a big Jupiter 1,500-mile-range rocket that failed to complete its planned flight.

Moments after the 70-foot intermediate range ballistic missile blazed into the tropic sky, the Army issued a statement saying it failed to complete its programmed flight because of technical difficulties.

To hundreds of spectators watching along the beach on this island midway along the Florida east coast, the Jupiter was a spectacular sight as it rose from a pillow of smoke and flame on the launching pad.

It appeared to travel straight up, trailing a yellow flame. Then it became a purplish light high in the sky. It was visible for about four minutes and was brighter than any star.

The statement by the Defense Department said only that the missile failed in its programmed flight because of technical difficulties and added: "This test of the Jupiter, under development by the Army, is one of a series of intermediate range and intercontinental ballistic missile flight tests conducted at the Cape Canaveral range."

There was no official explanation of what technical difficulties were involved.

Congressmen who witnessed the firing were members of a military subcommittee of the House Committee on Appropriations, headed by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.).

Ike's Illness Looms Over Thanksgiving

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Americans prepared today to give thanks for still another year's harvest of freedom and abundance, but the shadow of President Eisenhower's illness darkened somewhat the usual joyful spirit of the time.

Prayers for the President's swift and complete recovery will be said tomorrow in many morning religious services which have been an integral part of Thanksgiving ever since the Pilgrims first celebrated it.

Otherwise, reports from across the country indicated that Americans will follow the patterns set in past years.

They will rush from city to country, from country to city, and from village to village, jamming trains, planes, buses and private cars to join friends and relatives for the day. Some will make it a four-day weekend. To accommodate all, railroads, airlines and bus companies are scheduling extra facilities.

One of the most unusual church services tomorrow will be held in the DeWitt Church, in an unheated, as yet unfinished building of the Bernard Baruch housing project in Manhattan's lower East Side. Nondenominational services will be held in English, Spanish and Russian at the church, the first built inside a public housing project in the city.

In Plymouth, Mass., the Mayflower II—replica of the original Pilgrim ship—will be turned over today to the Plymouth Plantation in colorful, costumed ceremonies. Tomorrow, there will be a town-wide open house, with costumed attendants playing host at such spots as Pilgrim Hall, the first church, Sparrow House and the old fort. In the afternoon, there will be the traditional Pilgrim procession by costumed townspeople marching from Plymouth Rock to church.

One-Man Campaign Against Yoga Fails, He Lands in Jail

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—William La Fond's one-man campaign against the practice of yoga landed him in jail.

The Solano County sheriff's office said it recovered 310 books on yoga from La Fond's car and accused him of filching them from libraries in 43 California communities; in Reno, and at Nevada State College.

La Fond, 34, is employed at Mare Island navy yard. J. Oller, sheriff's investigator, said La Fond used most of his Nov. 10-21 vacation to round up the books. "He claims that yoga is the work of the devil and the public should not be exposed to it," Oller reported. "He has taken it upon himself to remove these books from public view."

Yoga is a philosophy of India origin. The believer combines intense mental concentration with a rugged physical discipline that includes controlled breathing and posture.

Solar Flare to Cause Radio Disturbances

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—The National Bureau of Standards says a major radio disturbance is likely in this country during a 36-hour period that ends tonight.

Dr. Frederick W. Brown, director of the NBS laboratory, said today there would be possible radio blackouts at some points.

Cause of the disturbance is a huge solar flare which occurred at 1 a.m. Sunday. The flare was reported observed in Russia, Czechoslovakia and Germany.

Has Difficulty Finding Cause For Our Delay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said today the Senate Preparedness subcommittee is having extreme difficulty determining who is responsible for what in the lagging missile and satellite programs.

Johnson, majority leader of the Senate and chairman of the committee, told reporters: "I do not believe in shaking everything up and turning things upside down. But we will have to find out how to streamline the organization."

The committee recalled Allen Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Dr. Herbert Scoville, director of the CIA's Office of Scientific Intelligence, for further closed-door questioning.

The first phase of the hearings will wind up sometime tonight when the committee will recess until Dec. 13.

"There is one clear pattern that has emerged from all of the testimony thus far," Johnson said. "It is the extreme difficulty of pinning down lines of authority in the missile and satellite program."

"It is obvious that the committee will have to inquire very carefully into who is running what."

Rep. Ford (R-Mich.), a member of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, told newsmen most members of that group favor production for both the Army and the Air Force intermediate range ballistic missiles. He did not indicate how soon a decision may be expected on production orders.

If the Army's Jupiter is accepted for production, he said, it will be made at a Detroit plant of the Chrysler Corp.

The Senate subcommittee summarized the secret testimony of the CIA representatives in a formal statement issued by Johnson. It quoted them as saying the Soviet economy has been growing "relatively faster" than that of the United States.

Labor Chief Urges Effort To Aid World

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, speaking for ailing President Eisenhower, urged the nation last night to accept the "austerity and privations" required to give military and economic aid to other countries of the free world.

Mitchell digressed from a prepared speech of his own to deliver the gist of the "chins up" talk that Eisenhower had planned to broadcast last night from Cleveland.

The main topic of the Cleveland talk, canceled because of the President's illness, was the importance of international cooperation in halting Soviet imperialism.

Mitchell, whose speech before a dinner of the Manufacturing Chemists Assn. was not aired, said the administration believes "no investment we can make pays greater dividends than reasonable economic aid to friendly nations."

Mitchell listed three specific points that the President had intended to make in the Cleveland speech. They were:

1. The Eisenhower administration believes the people of the United States owe full support to the mutual security program in both its military and economic phases.

2. Eisenhower will recommend to Congress in January that the expiring Trade Agreements Act be broadened and be extended for a period longer than the present three-year term. The proposal would provide for broader authority for the negotiation of reciprocal trade pacts.

3. A call for United States participation in the Organization for Trade Corporation. Mitchell described the agency as "a business-like unit" to guarantee maximum benefits from the negotiation of trade agreements.

Mitchell was given a copy of the Eisenhower draft text, and he made notes on it before boarding a plane for New York.

Curious Britons Inspect Model American City

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Curious Britons, at a rate of nearly 2,500 a day, have been pouring through an exhibition this week on what it's like to live in a small American city.

The exhibition is based on Kalamazoo, a Michigan city of 80,000. Kalamazoo and Manchester are unlike, except in language. Kalamazoo's Mayor Glenn Allen said he "felt sure that the odd, Indian name of our town had something to do with its selection as the subject of the United States government exhibition."

The exhibit opened Monday and 1,800 viewed the pictures, movies, charts, graphs and consumer goods which are representative of life in prosperous America. The attendance yesterday jumped to 2700.

"We had several large groups of school children as well as older people," said Fred Hardray, director of the exhibit.

The exhibit is scheduled to remain in Manchester until Dec. 7. After Christmas it opens in London and later goes to Cardiff, Wales, Hull, Birmingham and Sheffield, Edinburgh, and Coventry, where it will end its nine months run.

L. Clayton Willis of Greenwich, Conn., engaged by the U. S. Information Service to answer questions throughout the tour, said the main points English visitors have asked were about "housing, job opportunities, schools and the cost of living."

Never the Same Again

Ike Must Soon Make Choice Of Whether He'll Continue

By JOSEPH A. DEAR

Our Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Ike had a stroke Monday afternoon. And that fact was concealed from the American people for 24 hours by his White House subordinates. Until Tuesday afternoon, the official line was: "He's recovering from a 'chill'."

The President, according to the last report, is recovering from a "cerebral occlusion," which affected his ability to pronounce "difficult" words. Doctors describe his affliction as "transitory," and say it has not affected his mental powers.

But it is already obvious that no matter how complete his apparent recovery, things will never be quite the same again. Ike's physical machinery has failed three in periods of strain.

He suffered his heart attack when enjoying a vigorous vacation in the high Rockies. Our NATO allies were kicking up just before he underwent an emergency operation to relieve an obstruction of the ilium. And this fall, what with Little Rock, Sputniks, and missiles, has been perhaps the most trying period of the Presidency for him.

The turn of events will depend largely on Ike himself. And most particularly on his own estimate of the degree of his impairment.

Symptoms Often Mild

Type of Illness Ike Has Might Go Unnoticed by Many

By FRANK CAREY

AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The type of illness President Eisenhower has might go unrecognized by many persons not under constant medical supervision, doctors of the National Heart Institute said today.

All present evidence as announced in White House bulletins indicates, they said, that Eisenhower had a "little" stroke—as distinguished from a "big" one. "A 'little' stroke," they said, "is of sufficiently mild and transitory nature that many persons having such an attack might not recognize it as an illness or would pass it off as a transient feeling of not feeling too well."

A "stroke"—little or big—is an impairment of nerve function resulting from impairment of blood flow to particular areas of the brain. The severity of nerve impairment depends upon the location and size of the blood vessel involved—and the nerve centers it feeds.

The NHI doctors said that the signs and symptoms reported in White House medical bulletins last night are "commonly called a 'little' stroke when doctors describe such a condition to a layman."

Formal White House bulletins have not used the word "stroke." Neurologists attending the President said last night Eisenhower suffered "an occlusion (blockage) of a small branch of a cerebral vessel which has produced a slight difficulty in speaking."

The NHI doctors said that a "stroke"—little or big—could directly result from the following mechanisms:

1. Thrombosis—That is, clot formation in an artery of the brain.

2. Embolism—Blocking of a brain blood vessel by a clot floating in the blood stream and originating from another part of the body.

3. Spasm—A tightening or closing down of the walls of an artery in the brain.

4. Hemorrhage due to rupture of a brain blood vessel.

5. Compression on a brain blood vessel due to a tumor, swollen brain tissue, or a large clot inside a blood vessel that presses against a nearby vessel.

Declaring that people affected by "little" strokes almost invariably recover from that particular stroke, they added that even in the case of "big" strokes, the outlook "is not necessarily as disastrous as it may first appear."

They said a "big" stroke is the type in which there may be partial or complete paralysis of one side of the body.

In contrast, in a "little" stroke, "there is no paralysis, although a particular function of the body or of the thinking process may be temporarily impaired."

In President Eisenhower's case, they said, the blood vessel affected is one controlling a "thinking" part of the speech process.

JoAnn Young Wins Contest On Essays

JoAnn Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young, Route 1, won the "Know Your America Week" essay contest. Essays were submitted by surrounding rural schools and were graded by six members of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's Club and a junior student of Missouri University. They were graded on impression only. JoAnn is a seventh grader at Anderson School.

A cash award and a copy of the Declaration of Independence will be given to the first, second and third place winners. Marie Flesman of High Point School and Lura Fowler, Anderson School, are second and third place winners respectively.

The winning essay is as follows:

I am proud to be an American. I am proud of our government which guarantees each person equal rights, regardless of race, creed, or color.

Our ancestors fought and died to establish this free government. They valued freedom so dearly that they were willing to leave their homes, friends and sometimes even their families for the chance to live as free men. For this they crossed the uncharted seas to a land filled with unknown danger, that they might establish a better way of life, not only for themselves, but for all future generations.

Because of their ideals we now enjoy our many freedoms, such as our freedom of speech, freedom to vote and, most important of all, the freedom to worship as we please and the right to attend the church of our choice.

I am thankful that I am an American and can enjoy all these privileges and I hope I shall always be worthy of my American heritage.

Dr. Yeager Is Speaker For Church

Man's inhumanity to man must be eliminated through an enlightened religious approach to current social problems, says Dr. Randolph O. Yeager, associate professor of sociology at Central Missouri State College. Dr. Yeager was speaker, at a Human Rights convention at the Knob Noster Methodist Church Monday afternoon.

Dr. Yeager, who in addition to being a college professor is an ordained Baptist minister, used two well known statements to illustrate his talk.

"David said, 'What is man that thou art mindful of him and the Son of man that thou visitest him, thou hast made him a little lower than the angels; thou hast crowned him with glory and honor.'"

"Edwin Markham asked rhetorically, 'Is this the thing the Lord God made and gave to have dominion over sea and land? ... down all the caverns of hell to its last gulf there is no form more terrible than this.'"

"The difference between these two statements is the measure of man's inhumanity to man. Human rights on earth were disregarded during the Middle Ages by a Church-dominated society that preached 'pie in the sky.'"

"Pie in the sky is not God's order for man on earth but rather God's regard in Heaven for those who were denied basic human rights on earth. Any enlightened religious approach to current social problems dare not forget that Jesus prayed, 'Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven.' Any Church that fails to follow its evangelistic program with an application of this social gospel ignores the directorate of Christ."

"The Man With the Hoe as described by Markham should have disappeared at this late date."

Leadership In The Kitchen

All sorts of analogies may be fabricated from the attributes for leadership—attitude, example and honorable living—catalogued by Maj. Gen. Joseph P. Cleland, president of Kemper Military Academy, in a talk before Optimist-Kiwanis clubs.

They are all so attainable by a modicum of personal application and self control it is a wonder there is not more common sense leadership among us as adults and particularly between adult and youth.

The subject of adult leadership offers itself to penetrating and serious discussion which will remain in abeyance while we touch on an academic facet.

For instance the characteristic of leadership by example in the realm of safety around the house during the holiday season when Mom's in the kitchen cooking turkey. Emphasis on survival seems mainly directed at filling the stomach.

Chances are pretty good that families will survive the Thanksgiving holiday unscathed by a day at home. But Martha Kohl, home economist of the National Safety Council, sounds a word of caution to the 20th Century homemaker who can play the role of leadership by example in minimizing the hazards of the day around the kitchen.

What are these hazards Mrs. Homemaker of 1957 faces? Miss Kohl asks. Well for one thing everyone will want to get into the act in the kitchen. Not only do too many cooks spoil the broth, but too many cooks clutter up the kitchen, may cause the homemaker to get flustered (sounds familiar) and perhaps trip or slip or spill things particularly hot things on little children underfoot.

How do you obviate kitchen hazards?

Get ready for Thanksgiving or any other holiday ahead of time by buying and preparing much of the food. Get a good night's sleep, then start the day off right with a good breakfast to keep fatigue at a minimum. Keep children—a hazard greater than sharp knives or hot pans—out of the kitchen. Be cautious when cooking the meal. Today's stoves can burn you just as badly as those great grandmother used. Through all the holiday hubbub, however, one member of the family usually keeps pretty well out of the way—that man.

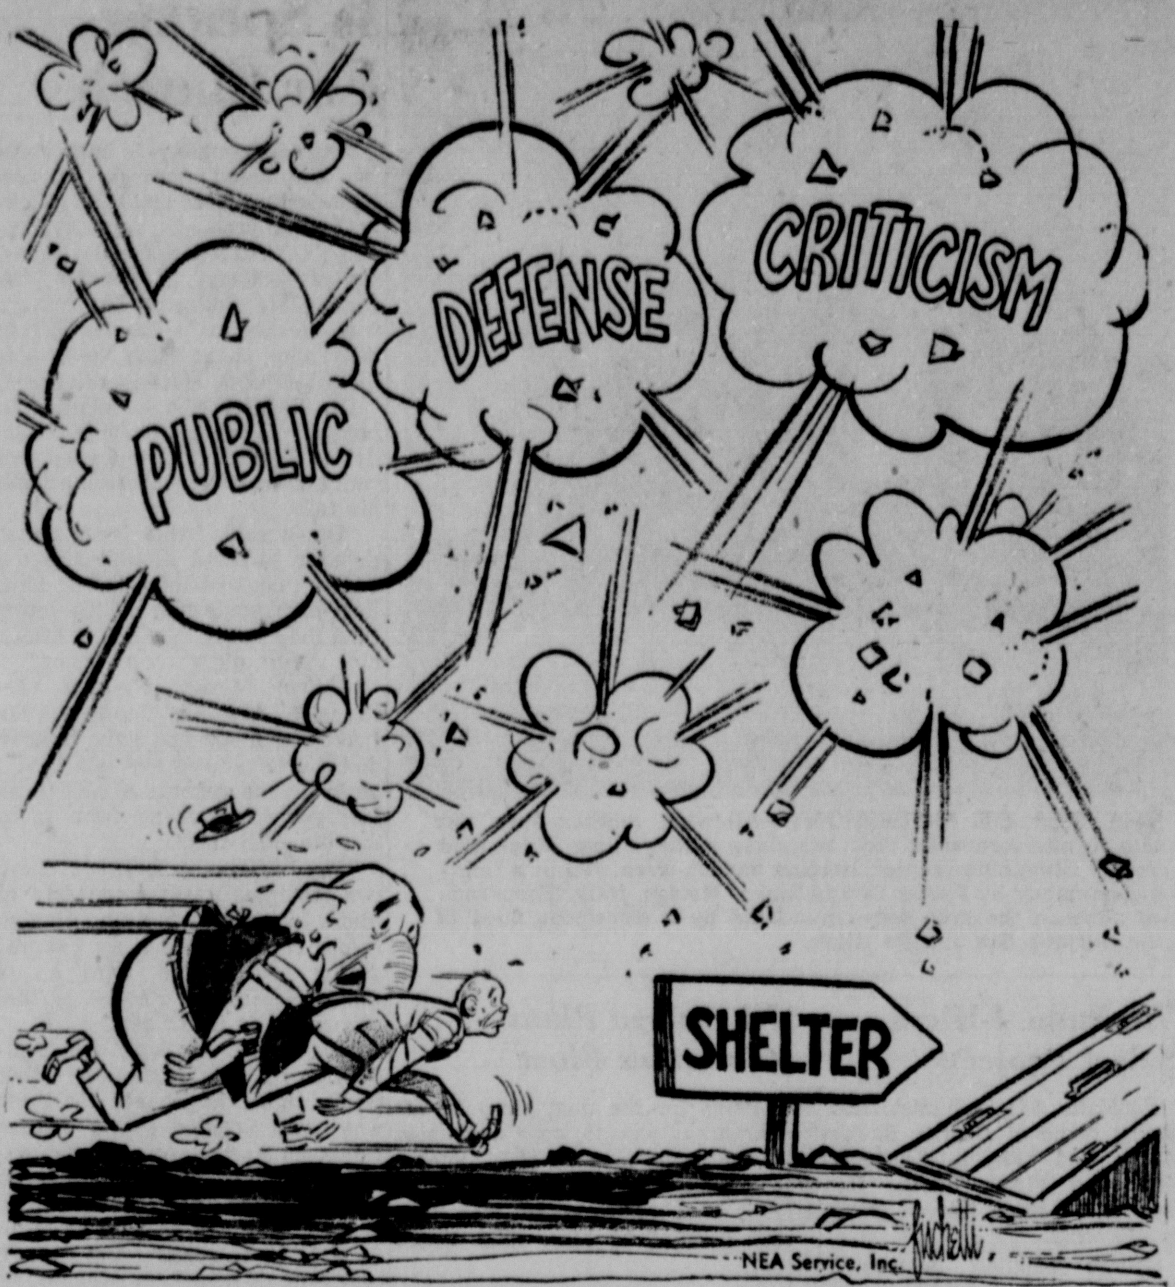

But his time comes when the turkey must be carved. Like his forbears he'll be exposing himself to danger from a carving knife. Be sure the knife is sharp, but cut away from you.

In the realm of home safety at Thanksgiving and Christmas time adults have a prime opportunity to exert leadership by example—the practice of household safety which some of those youngsters will be sure to absorb.

This may test the patience of Mom and Dad, Grandma and Grandpa to live up to the other tenet of leadership—the right kind of Attitude when they feel impelled to shout at the youngsters:

"Get Out Of This Kitchen!"

Law Is Foggy on President's Stand-In

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON—What happens if President Eisenhower should become too disabled to carry out his duties? Would Vice President Nixon become acting president or president? If so, how? There's no agreed-on answer.

The Constitution itself is foggy on this point.

But it's the third time the question has arisen in a little over two years: After Eisenhower's heart attack; after his ileitis operation; and now again after his mild stroke. He himself asked Congress to clear up the fog. But it didn't.

If a president dies, the vice president becomes president. Seven vice presidents have become president that way. If a president is removed from office by Congress, the Constitution says the vice president succeeds him. That hasn't happened yet.

But this is where the Constitution is vague: it says in case of the "inability of a president to discharge the powers and duties of his office, they shall devolve on the vice president."

But that raises these questions: 1. What is the position of a vice president who acts as president? Does he thus become president, ousting the man who was elected to the job? What if the elected president recovers?

2. Just what is inability to discharge the duties of the presidency? Is there a time limit on how long a disabled president can remain in office before being succeeded by the vice president?

3. Who decides when the President is too disabled to do his job? And who decides when the disability ends and he can resume his office? The President? He couldn't if he were unconscious. The vice president? That might put him in the position of a usurper.

From what Eisenhower has said in public—in 1956 after his heart attack and again the same year after his operation—it might be concluded he would resign if he felt physically unfit for the job. But that's not positive.

He said: "There is going to be no neglect of the duties of the President of the United States; and when I feel I can't carry them on, I won't be there."

"If at any time I have any reason to believe that I am not fit, as I believe myself to be now, I will come before the American public and tell them."

It might be Eisenhower's intention to quit if he felt unfit. But suppose he was only temporarily unfit, although the unfitness lasted for months in which the whole direction of the government suffered. Suppose he felt sure he would recover and therefore did not step aside for the vice president?

What happens to the presidency and its duties then?

There were two presidents—Garfield and Wilson—who remained in office during periods they were physically unfit for it. In neither case did the people around those presidents let the vice presidents take over.

Garfield, shot by an assassin in 1881, lingered 80 days; Wilson, who collapsed in 1919, remained in office until the end of his term in 1921, although he had been paralyzed on one side.

Those around Garfield and Wilson feared that if their vice presidents took over the presidential duties they would be doing so out the presidents.

Through his former attorney general, Herbert Brownell, Eisenhower earlier this year asked Congress to propose an amendment to the Constitution making clear once and for all how a vice president should take over presidential duties in cases of disability. As it did before, Congress talked about it and did nothing.

Brownell told Congress: "Unless the President, his Cabinet and his other friends are absolutely certain of his status after the termination of his inability, they will tend to oppose any attempt to declare the existence of inability, viewing such a declaration as equivalent to removing the President from office."

Some constitutional authorities have argued through the years that once a vice president assumes presidential duties, he is

As they started to leave after spending the afternoon at her brother's house, the woman went over and kissed her 2½ year old nephew goodbye. He took it all right, not with an affectionate response, but all right. Then his little cousin went over and kissed him, and because that seemed to be the usual thing, he took that, too, but when his cousin's little girl friend started to kiss him, that was just too much.

"No more kissin'," he rebelled loudly.

He'll get over that," his uncle said laughingly.

With the prescription number in her hand, the young woman picked up the telephone to call the drug store.

"Number please," said the operator, and the woman gave it to her—not the telephone number of the drug store, but the prescription number she wanted. The telephone operator was baffled—and the woman, when she discovered what she had done, was embarrassed.

A Lukewarm Audience

Business Men Unimpressed By Nixon Campaign Opener

By Joseph A. Dear
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON—Vice President Richard Nixon opened his campaign for the 1960 Republican nomination Thursday last, at a luncheon meeting of the Committee for Economic Development, and fell flat.

It's the first time within memory Nixon was responsible for a turkey. It was an audience he wanted. And must have. For the very successful business types of the CED are the source of GOP campaign financing.

The Vice President spoke 50 minutes. Not once was his discourse interrupted by applause. That's probably why it continued for the better part of an hour. He was waiting for a hand so he could close on the upbeat.

And for once his considerable talents at extemporizing served him ill. Duffers would have given up sooner and been ahead. But he spun it out.

Only a column or so ago it was argued that Nixon had been accepted in some substantial and influential circles because it seemed he was the only Republican who could translate "progressive moderation" into Congressional seats. His effort before a 200 member blue ribbon jury of the CED did not support the argument.

The question is why. Is it possible that the combination of inflation, recession, and Sputniks has so tarnished Ike's Administration that anyone connected with it also is diminished? Or is it that Republican businessmen were never thoroughly convinced that the GOP had to cope with problems of today in today's terms? That the past is gone forever?

Nixon's approach was the standard Ike line, stated strongly but not radically. We can't make the mistake, he said, "of putting a price tag on military strength and get into a position where the United States and the free world can be blackmailed into surrender to the Communist world."

He warned that "Communist aggression within borders" was the principal danger. The chance of aggression over borders he discounted. And he argued that economic aid was necessary to meet the chief threat.

Nixon's proposition is really simple enough. If war came, no American business leader or labor leader would object to spending president, even though the elected President recovers. This is based on the belief there cannot be two presidents at the same time.

Brownell argued: "presidential disability severe and prolonged enough to warrant the devolution of presidential power on the vice president would create something of a crisis itself."

But suppose a president is unconscious and can't know he's unfit? Who decides the vice president should take over? No one has the answer, at least not an undisputed answer.

whatever had to be spent to win the war. The point is that the wars of tomorrow will be won or lost before the shooting begins.

The shooting war of the future will be fought, for the most part, with equipment in hand when the shooting starts. As for political and economic warfare, the nation already is engaged. And the outcome of this warfare could be as decisive as any shooting war.

Nixon noted that, "If the Soviets and their allies can effectively gain control of the uncommitted world—a billion people in Asia and Africa—they will have won the battle for the world." That, he warned, will happen "unless we step up our activities."

Nixon doesn't doubt we will do what "is necessary to maintain military superiority," but is concerned "that we will fail to meet the Soviet effort in non-military fields."

Now this isn't a very cheery approach. But it is realistic. And political leaders who are realistic deserve commendation.

It's possible—probable even—that United States and its allies will live in peril and under tension for many, many years. The Greeks of Constantinople lived that way for centuries. And if they could do it, can't we?

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D.

"If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing?" asks the apostle. We may well ask ourselves the same question in relation to other phases of life. If we give all our attention to eating, what will happen to our need for earning a living? If we give all our attention to making money, what will happen to our moral responsibilities?

Such questions could be asked by the dozen. The answers would all indicate that those who devoted all their activities to a single sector of life, would lack wholeness. Life is many sided and all phases must be associated with one another.

The spirit cannot be omitted from man's completeness. Man must worship and keep in touch with God. Otherwise man will fall apart.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Pentagon Brass Face Angry Questions

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Congressmen Dan Flood of Pennsylvania and Robert Sikes of Florida, both Democrats, chewed out high defense department officials like Marine sergeants training recruits at Parris Island when they heard about some of the lags in the satellite-missile program.

The public was barred from the two-day, electric-charged sessions. However, here are some of the things the Congressmen heard which made them indignant.

The United States was producing four Thor intermediate ballistic missiles per month, when Eisenhower economy cut it down to two.

When Pennsylvania's Dan Flood heard this he looked as if he were going to jump down Defense Secretary McElroy's throat. He looked even more explosive when he learned that Russia was already producing and had stockpiled several thousand IRBMs.

While it's true that Russia's intermediate missiles travel only 800 miles as against our range of 1500 miles, the Russian range is ample to knock out all our strategic-air-command bases overseas. Furthermore, they have missiles, we don't.

By pointing 25 missiles at each U. S. Base and firing them simultaneously, the Russians could knock our bases out in Turkey, Italy, Libya, and Western Europe. At least one missile out of 25 would be sure to hit. And one missile is enough to blow a base into smithereens.

Will Allies Panic?

These SAC bases are for the purpose of carrying war to the heart of Russia. They are offensive bases, from which we would launch bomber attacks. These are the much-publicized attacks President Eisenhower has been talking about in his chin-up television broadcasts.

Yet, according to the information given secretly to the House Armed Services Committee, these bases are now almost valueless—thanks to Russia's superior missile development and to our complacency.

"We are so far behind," exclaimed Congressman Sikes, "that it may cause some of our allies to panic."

Secretary of Defense McElroy nodded in agreement.

"I am seriously disturbed," continued Sikes. "You seem completely isolated from what your own people are doing and from what the American people are thinking. What steps are we taking to show our allies that we are catching up with Russia?"

Two Ike Defenders

Congressman Dick Wigglesworth, the sober

Milton, Mass., Republican, disagreed, however. So did GOP Congressman Errett Scrivner, whose district embraces the stockyards of Kansas City, Kans.

They defended the Administration, argued that the situation was not as dangerous as it seemed, that the Russian Sputnik had no defensive implications, and that the United States couldn't have got ahead any faster even had it spent extra money.

However, even they had a hard time defending the second amazing revelation, namely that the Defense Department had known five months in advance that Russia was going to launch its Sputnik yet didn't let the Army put its six satellites at Huntsville, Ala., into the air first.

Existence of these six satellites was first reported in this column on Oct. 25. The Congressmen, going to Huntsville after they finished quizzing defense officials in Washington, saw these satellites, declared they were no figment of a newsmen's imagination. The Army has now been given the green light to launch them.

Men and the Moon

Dr. Edward Teller, father of the H-bomb, has recommended flatly against building a moon rocket as a "scientific stunt." Called in by the White House to review the moon rocket proposals, he decided none of them looked promising enough to justify the expense, suggested holding up construction of a moon rocket until more basic research problems are solved.

This appears to put Teller in about the same position as Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, who was denied a government security clearance because he hung back against producing the hydrogen bomb. Teller testified against Oppenheimer.

Meanwhile, the Russians have already built several rockets which they expect to shoot to the moon. This will give them another head start in the race into space.

Meanwhile also, the State Department still hasn't given the chief Russian moon expert, Professor A. D. Alexandrov, final permission to come to the USA.

Professor Alexandrov is probably the top mathematical physicist in the world and has helped pioneer Russia's space projects. He has been extremely frank with American scientists, but though visiting in Canada in October, could not come to the USA because the State Department forgot about the request for his entry.

Ambassador William Lacey, in charge of Russian cultural exchanges, has just written Alvin Eurich of the Ford Foundation that "There would be no objection to inviting Professor Alexandrov, although no absolute guarantee that a visa will be issued can be given prior to his actual application."

Under the circumstances, Mr. Eurich doesn't want to risk the embarrassment of extending the invitation and then having Russia's top moon expert be vetoed by the State Department.

Polio Almost Licked

Data released by the Department of Health, Welfare, and Education tells a heartening story. In the past two years, paralytic polio in the United States has been cut 80 per cent. One of the most dreadful diseases has been controlled by research and vaccination technique.

The whole story of this amazing advance has two important aspects. The major one, of course, is the long and painstaking research by dedicated scientists who plodded along refusing to be defeated. Second is the public support for the attack on the disease by such organizations as the March of Dimes and the Sister Kenny Funds. Through educational propaganda, the public recognized polio as a crippling menace and became determined to end it. The encouraging figure of 80 per cent does not mean that the job is done.

The sad thing about polio is that it attacks the breadwinner as well as the child. The crippled child on the polio poster reminds parents that they must protect their children, but the researchers warn us that adults at least up to the age of 40 should be vaccinated, too.

Turkey Day Offers Gravy On Gridiron

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

While you're reducing that turkey to a carcass tomorrow, college football will be filling out the bowl game schedule with Texas A&M, Texas and Virginia Military taking shots at the New Year's Day gravy.

There are more angles to the A&M-Longhorn game than a Rube Goldberg cartoon. It's strictly a "H" game—and the result won't be known 'til Saturday.

If Baylor can knock off Rice Saturday, the Aggie-Texas winner will claim the Southwest Conference title and the Cotton Bowl berth that goes with it. If Rice wins, the Aggie-Texas winner likely will wind up in one of those "other" bowls, probably the Sugar.

In short, it's just a usual Southwest race. Texas A&M, beaten only by Rice, and Rice, beaten only by Texas, are tied for the lead at 4-1-0. Texas, beaten only by Southern Methodist but tied by Baylor, is third at 3-1-1.

If Texas A&M and Rice wind up in a tie for the title, Rice gets the Cotton Bowl bid because of the 7-6 victory over the Aggies.

Things are much more simple for VMI. If the Keydets win, they go to the Tangerine Bowl. If they lose, they spend the year-end holidays with the folks.

The Keydets are 8-0-1 (tied 21-11 by Holy Cross) and are paired with East Texas State by the Tangerine committee as the only two teams still under consideration as a foe for Mississippi Southern. The Texans already have completed their season, with an 8-1 record.

The Texas A&M-Texas game will be televised in the South, Southwest and Midwest. Eastern viewers will have a chance to look too, but only after the Brown-Colgate game is completed at Providence, R.I.

Not on TV, but worth viewing in the flesh are Cornell at Penn., Richmond at William & Mary, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, Denver at Wyoming and Utah State at Utah.

Utah can bag the Skyline title with a victory. But if the Utes lose, it's the Southwest Conference race all over again. A Utah defeat could make the Denver-Wyoming winner the champ—if New Mexico defeats Brigham Young Saturday. BYU could win it all.

The other still vacant bowl berths will be filled after Saturday's games.

Lou Michaels Wins Lineman Of Week Title

By TED MEIER
The Associated Press

Big Lou Michaels, 230-pound tackle for the University of Kentucky, did just about everything as the Wildcats upset Tennessee 20-6 last Saturday.

It was perhaps the greatest individual performance by a lineman during the season and it brought the senior from Swoyer, Pa., additional recognition today as the Lineman of the Week. He was far in front of the weekly Associated Press poll by sports writers and broadcasters.

"Lou Michaels played the finest game of tackle I've ever seen in my life," declared Kentucky Coach Blanton Collier. "He was terrific, that's the only word for it."

"Man-eating tackle Lou Michaels," wrote Al Van Hoose of the Birmingham News, "scored once, kicked two extra points, punted 41 yards per boot, covered a fumble by lead to another six points, dynamited another loose for the same result and for 59 minutes, 40 seconds brutally led a Kentucky defense which harassed, bumbled, then finally routed favored Tennessee. When the all-everything senior left (the game) with one play to go, it was to the most tumultuous ovation a normally unsung, beatup old tackle ever heard from 35,000 folks."

Consider Mitchell As Head KU Coach

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Officials of the University of Kansas will meet with football coach Jack Mitchell of Arkansas today regarding the head coaching vacancy at KU.

Mitchell, a native of Kansas and a former coach at Wichita University, is regarded as the top candidate for the job.

Dutch Lonborg, Kansas athletic director, said last night, "I am unable to comment on the date or time of possible announcement of a replacement for Coach Chuck Mather."

Mather's resignation was effective at the end of the season.

A Little Rock, Ark., paper—the Democrat—reported yesterday that two college coaches had been contacted about the possibility of taking over the coaching job at Arkansas if Mitchell leaves.

Sports Editor Jack Keady said Tommy Prothro of Oregon State and Jim Myers of Iowa State had already been contacted by Razorback boosters.

Broadway Bowling Lanes

Sedalia's Broadway Lanes bowling team defeated the Skyhaven Motel team of Warrensburg, 2739 to 2665, at Warrensburg last Sunday.

Joe Long, with a big 233 game and a 384 series, was the big gun for Sedalia followed by Johnny Hazell's 376, Bob McCurdy's 555 and Jim Ryan's 526.

In an extra "sugar" game, Sedalia, with Jim Taylor's 236 and Johnny Hazell's 230 game, rolled a big 991 game to win by 115 pins. The Broadway Lanes team averaged over 932 per game or over 187 per man, for the four games rolled.

Points Versus Spirit Gives Fans Pause

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The football experts rate Navy a three-point favorite over Army in the 58th renewal of the service classic here Saturday, but fans trying to pick the winner have to decide how that slim margin stacks up against such unforeseeable factors as team spirit and the breaks.

Spirit alone has won for both sides in the past, and breaks have decided other meetings.

The weather, too, could be a factor. The gridiron prophets base their calculations on the expectation that the Middies' aerial game will prove superior to Army's ground attack. Rain or windy weather could alter that picture.

The experts are unanimous on one point—anyone who goes by the record in picking the winner in this game is sticking his neck out.

Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz promised "something new" for the clash. He wasn't saying what it was.

Coach Earl Blaik of Army let it be known his squad was working on special defensive plans, but likewise wasn't giving any details.

Both Blaik and Erdelatz had high opinions of their opponents' abilities.

Erdelatz said the Cadet backfield of Dave Bourland, Pete Dawkins, Bob Anderson and Vin Barta is the best he's seen since coming to Annapolis seven years ago.

"Army can get you coming and going," he declared, "if you lay back for passes, they run over you. If you try to stop Anderson, Dawkins runs wild. If you watch Dawkins, Anderson takes off. If you watch both, Barta will beat you to death."

Erdelatz rates the Army "twice as good" as the squad which held Navy to a 7-7 tie in last year's encounter. And he says the West Point backfield is "about 10 times better than it was when we played them last November."

Blaik, while singling out Bourland for special praise, said he doubted if any team could contain Navy.

"Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst are good runners. Tom Forrestal is a fine quarterback and passer," Blaik commented. He said he figured Army would score on Navy, but questioned: "Can we deny Navy a higher score?"

Jimmy Brown Runs Cleveland Toward Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cleveland Browns are doing the National League up Brown—Jimmy Brown that is.

Brown (Jimmy) virtually is running Coach Brown's (Paul) Browns (Cleveland) to the NFL's Eastern Conference title and possibly a league championship. The former Syracuse All-American broke the league record last Sunday for yards gained in a single game to take a commanding lead in the race for individual ground gaining honors.

Brown gained 237 yards in 31 attempts to boost his league leading total to 769 yards on 161 carries, an average of 4.8 yards. He's 197 yards ahead of Dick Casares of the Chicago Bears who moved from third to second place with 572 yards on 155 attempts, a 3.7 average.

Cleveland also has the league's passer in Tommy O'Connell, former Illinois whiz. O'Connell has averaged 10.4 yards per pass on 58 completed of 96 thrown for 1,027 yards and 6 touchdowns. Eddie Lebaron, Washington's quarterback, is second with a 9.2 average on 76 for 128, 1,187 yards, 8 TDs. Baltimore's John Unitas, who leads all passers in touchdowns averted with 19, ranks third in overall passing with figures of 117 for 205, 1,760 yards, 8.5 average.

Mother's resignation was effective at the end of the season.

A Little Rock, Ark., paper—the Democrat—reported yesterday that two college coaches had been contacted about the possibility of taking over the coaching job at Arkansas if Mitchell leaves.

Cardinals Schedule Mid-Week Day Games

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals have scheduled some mid-week day games next season for the first time in three years and will open the season at home for the first time since 1954.

The mid-week games in the home schedule announced yesterday by the club are against San Francisco May 15, Pittsburgh June 5, and Los Angeles Aug. 5.

Pittsburgh and Philadelphia will come to St. Louis three times, instead of the usual four, because of schedule revisions made necessary by the transfer of the Dodgers to Los Angeles and the Giants to San Francisco.

Hughesville, Knob Noster Split Honors

The Hughesville and Knob Noster High School basketball teams split the honors Tuesday night. The varsity Hughesville aggregation won from the Knobs, 61 to 54, while the Knobs "B" team enjoyed a 41-33 victory. The games were played at Hughesville. It was a non-conference tilt.

The "B" game saw Hughesville jumped out to a first quarter lead 12-7 but fold in the second period as the Knobs came through with an 8-3 score to knot the game at the halftime 15-15. In the final half the Knobs picked up a little steam and scored 14-10 in the third quarter and 12-8 in the second to win the game 41-33.

Johnny Swope sparked the Knobs with 11 points and Cowgill and Brant divided honors with eight points each.

In the varsity game, the scoring was somewhat different. The Hughesville quintet worked a 19-10 first quarter lead, but dropped a point in the second as the Knobs scored 13-12. Halftime saw Hughesville with a 31-23 lead. In the third quarter the Knobs picked up power in scoring and outscored Hughesville 17-12 but were short of a lead by three points, and in the final period Hughesville came back, scoring 17-14 for the 61-54 victory.

Monsees of Hughesville held the scoring honors and made seven goals and six free throws for 20 points for Hughesville, while Wharton was the top scorer for Knob Noster with 8 and 2 for 18 points.

Tipton Bests Gremlins In Final Minutes

The Tipton Cardinals, after surviving a tremendous Sacred Heart scoring surge midway the second half, put their highly regarded offensive together in the winning minutes to take a 64-59 verdict from the Gremlins here Tuesday night. The loss was the fourth of the season against five wins for the Cardinals. For Tipton, it was the second triumph against a single loss.

The Cardinals' threat to turn the contest into a slaughter late in the third period was headed off by a sparkling Sedalia rally led by sharpshooter Don Ressel. Less than two minutes remained in the third period and the Gremlins were 11 points down, 47-36. John Martin, Don Rouchka and Tom Moser hit on consecutive attempts from the field and by the end of the frame, Tipton's lead had been sliced to five points, 47-42.

As the final stanza got underway, Sacred Heart's chances perked up even more as Ressel poked in a long jump shot, making the count 47-44. Joe Rowles put Tipton back into a five-point advantage with a hard driving layup, but fielders by Adam Fisher and Ressel pulled the Gremlins within one point 49-48.

Jerry Hartman and Rowles hit two pointers and Larry Gist added a charity toss to shove the Cards lead to six points with five minutes remaining. The Gremlins called time to regroup. As play resumed, Ressel pumped in another jump shot, Moser chipped in a free throw and John Martin scored after taking a rebound, making the score 54-53, in favor of Tipton. E. H. Brauer connected for the Cardinals and Martin came back for Sacred Heart with another fielder, but that was the final serious Sedalia threat. Tipton played cautiously in the closing minutes and scored on four of five free throws and hit two layups as the Gremlins' defense faltered.

The crowd-pleasing offensive battle was tied three times and the lead switched hands 11 times. Sacred Heart's only margins were one point. Don Ressel again paced the Gremlins' attack with 30 points. During the first half he kept the locals in contention by whipping in 19 counters and Sedalia trailed at intermission by one point, 29-28. In the second half Tipton revised its defense and with two men trailing Ressel, the Cards managed to check his point production.

The Cardinals enjoyed more success with their pattern plays than the Gremlins and 11 of their 26 field goals came on layups. Superior rebounding enabled the Sacred Heart quintet to stay within striking distance as Martin, Rouchka and Moser, all 6-2, turned in fine rebounding performances. Martin contributed 11 points for runnerup honors in the Sedalia scoring attack. Jerry Hartman was high for Tipton with 22, followed by Brauer and Ellison with 15 and 13 points, respectively.

Tipton took the win in the "B" game, bouncing the Gremlins 45-17. Sedalia stayed close in the low scoring first quarter, 7-4. After

Pastrano Is Favored Over Besmanoff Tonight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Willie Pastrano, home from England, hopes to strengthen his claim as a heavyweight contender tonight when he tackles Will Besmanoff in a 10-round bout here.

Pastrano already is considered a leading contender to champion Floyd Patterson's title and is confident that a victory over the German heavyweight will serve as a stepping stone to a title shot.

Pastrano feels he is in top shape for the bout. His last effort Oct. 22 in London brought him a victory over Dick Richardson, stylish puncher from Britain.

Gives Football Crystal Ball Final Glance

NEW YORK (AP)—Giving the crystal ball of football a final glance before tossing it into the garbage can:

Navy over Army: People who know say that Army is an average team blessed with two outstanding quarterbacks in Anderson and Dawkins but that Navy is a balanced, above-average team.

Texas A&M over Texas: The blocking and tackling in this one will be heard for miles. Mighty John Crow to give the Aggies the edge in "this Thanksgiving Day game."

Notre Dame over Southern California: The Irish pummel one of their most respected rivals.

Auburn over Alabama: These Auburners are downright stingy when it comes to giving anything away unless, that is, it is a rough time.

Oklahoma over Oklahoma State: State has come back a great distance—but it still has a great distance to go before beating the Sooners.

Rice over Baylor: If the Aggies lose Thursday, King Hill and Rice mates could be co-champions and the Cotton Bowl team by Saturday evening.

The others without comment: THURSDAY EAST: Brown over Colgate, Cornell over Penn.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Miami of Ohio.

SOUTHWEST: Hardin Simmons over New Mexico A&M.

SOUTH: William & Mary over Richmond, Virginia Military over Virginia Tech.

Otterville Saddle Club met recently and elected the following officers: president, Jake Beck; vice president, Harry Leaton; secretary, Sylvia Griffin; treasurer, Leo Smith; parade captains, Herman Rodgers and Robert Thomas.

It was decided to have a horse show again this year at the club grounds.

The club voted to sponsor a dance to be held during the holidays at the Rod and Gun Club, Boonville.

A Rough Time At Wrestling Matches Tues.

The wrestling at the National Guard Armory returned to action aplenty Tuesday night and was a terrific card to watch as far as the ringersiders were concerned.

Winners of two events resulted when opponents were disqualified by the referee, and a third event went to a 20-minute draw.

Ernie Dusek, Omaha, and Larry Hamilton, St. Joseph, team captains in the tag-team event, battled for 20 minutes to a draw.

Neither man was able to out-do the other in roughness or could he gain the master stroke to win. This was in the opening event.

In the semi-windup Bill McIntyre, Otterville, and Dr. Lee Grabeel "had-at-it" for three falls, but the Redhead came out on top when Grabeel was disqualified in the third fall period.

McIntyre using a jackknife won the first fall in 15 minutes and 21 seconds. Dr. Grabeel took the second in 11 minutes and 37 seconds using the Boston crab.

In the third period, Grabeel thought he had won, and mistook the tapping of the mat, climbing out and McIntyre stayed in the ring calling for the "Doc" to come back and finish it.

That third period was a rough five minutes and 35 seconds. Grabeel was "hot" at the referee, and the affair finally ended up with "Doc" getting beyond control and being disqualified.

The final event, was an "old fashioned rough house" between the wrecking crew brothers of Ernie and Joseph Dusek, against Ronnie Etchinson and Hamilton. They wrestled, fought, bounced and did everything in the book during all three fall periods.

The first fall went to Etchinson over Joe Dusek with a body press in 15 minutes and 24 seconds. Then came the second which Joe beat Etchinson with a series of knee drops and press in six minutes and 50 seconds.

Everything went in the third period, with Ernie finally trying to slug the referee, which brought a few "taps" on his own chin from the official. But as it went on it got rougher and finally the referee stopped the match, disqualified the Duseks and gave it to Etchinson and Hamilton after eight minutes and 55 seconds had passed.

The wrestlers were wild, the officials wild, fans wild, and everybody had a wild good time.

The next matches are scheduled for Tuesday night, Dec. 10, the last for the 1957 year.

Cole Camp Wins 48-47 Over Smithton

Tommy Lehman's shot with five seconds remaining rolled in, then out of the basket Tuesday night and gave the Cole Camp basketball squad a 48-47 edge over the Smithton Tigers in a non-conference game on the Cole Camp court.

Cole Camp's girls won easily in their volleyball game, with a 43-6 decision over Smithton's girls.

Smithton's eagles jumped into an early lead by outscoring the host team 19-15 in the first quarter. However, their lead was short lived as Cole Camp bounced right back in the second quarter to tally 14 and hold the Tigers to 6 for a half time score of 29-25 in Cole Camp's favor.

In the third period Smithton outscored the winners 12-11 and in the final period the Tigers tallied 10 to Cole Camp's 8 to fall short of victory by one point. The final score was 48-47, Cole Camp the winner.

In the final five minutes of play, it was anybody's game with the lead changing hand five times, with Cole Camp's superior play telling in the end.

African Series Seen as Threat To Westerns

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Bernard Schubert, who has quite a reputation as a television program creator, took a look in the crystal ball the other day. He saw:
"African adventure series are the coming challenge to TV Westerns—if they're done in an adult manner. I don't think they'll ever ride Westerns off the range, but the chances are that we'll see an increasing number of them."
Schubert is director of a series of African adventures filmed in Kenya. The series is appearing on numerous stations, throughout the country. In the past he has brought to the TV screen such programs as "Topper," "Crossroads," "Adventures of the Falcon," "Mr. and Mrs. North" and others.
Schubert, recently back from Kenya, said: "Africa is both the most untouched part of the world and at the same time the most tremendously publicized part of the world. In Africa you have combinations of many things—of animals and primitive emotions, for example. These things capture people's imaginations.

"I think that's why movies with an African background have made more money percentage-wise than any other type of movie."
There are difficulties connected with making TV films in Africa, Schubert said.
"Animals are poor actors. They don't take directions well." As witness, for example, a rhino that bowed over a camera jeep of the "White Hunter" location company.
"And many Africans themselves are difficult actors. They want to watch the camera and they think that making films is hilarious fun instead of work."

Thus, in one program, a group of Africans were supposed to chase a couple of white actors to a cliff over which the actors were to leap. The Africans thought it was great fun chasing the white actors. They chased them so fast that they kept catching them before the hard-running actors could reach the cliff.
By the time the Africans agreed to follow directions, the whites were too tired to run. So the sequence had to be postponed until the next day when the actors had recovered breath.

Kim Explains Her Reason For Striking

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Kim Novak explained today she staged a sit-down strike against her studio because "I don't like to have anyone take advantage of me."
All is rosy now between her and Columbia Pictures, she said. She had just talked to bossman Harry Cohn about using the studio's suite on her forthcoming trip to New York, and he was cordial. But a month ago they were at stalemate points.
Kim refused to report for a loan-out to Alfred Hitchcock for the James Stewart starrer, now called "Vertigo." Backed by her new agents, she demanded an adjustment in her contract. After a few weeks of name calling, she got it.
"I'm on top now," she explained to me on the Hitchcock set. "But who knows how long that will continue. I've got to start participating in the profits too."
"After all, you work hard so you can do the things you want, such as providing things for your family. But I couldn't do that on my salary. I couldn't do a lot of things."

"My salary was $1,250 a week. That sounds like a lot of money, but my take-home pay was around $250. Where does it go? You'd be surprised how easily it can go. And when you're well known, people think you're able to contribute more than others to charity."
"I was unable to buy sufficient clothes for myself. When I wanted to go to a party, I'd have to go to the studio and ask to borrow a dress that Rita Hayworth had worn in a picture. I'd have to get the studio to do my hair too. They'd complain and ask why I couldn't get it done myself on my salary. Then I'd have to explain the whole thing to them."
"I'm a very independent person, and I didn't like that. Also, I don't like anyone to take advantage of me. The studio was making a great deal of money off me, and I was seeing very little of it."
Kim didn't know exactly what her new salary was, but it apparently is $2,750 a week. That puts her in the 85 per cent tax bracket, she admitted, but at least she is able to buy clothes, hire a secretary and have other deductible expenses, as well as do things for her family.

Says Arabian Troops On Emergency Basis At Jordan Station

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—A Saudi Arabian official said today that troops of his country stationed in Jordan are on an emergency footing to help their hosts repel any Israeli attack.
Sheikh Ahmad Kuheimi, Saudi charge d'affaires here, announced that leaves for all Saudi officers and men stationed in Jordan had been canceled.
He said he delivered a message yesterday from King Saud to King Hussein assuring the Jordanian monarch of help if Israel should attack.
Kuheimi also conferred with Jordan's Foreign Minister Samir Rifal and Bahjat Talhouni, chief of the royal Cabinet.
A state of emergency was declared for Jordan's armed forces after Jordan blocked an Israeli motor convoy headed for Mt. Scopus in the demilitarized area near Jerusalem last week. Jordan said gasoline carried by the convoy was "war material" but Israel denied this.

Comrades of Injured Airman Help Family

PT. DIX, N.J. (AP)—A thousand 29th Air Transport Squadron comrades of an injured airman are working to give his family something to celebrate on Thanksgiving Day.

The airman, James Driscoll, 27, suffered critical burns Sunday while trying to save his 18-month-old son from the family's burning trailer home outside Wrightstown.

The boy, Matthew, perished in the blaze. Driscoll's wife Roberta, 21, saved their other two children.

Now Driscoll is in Ft. Dix Army hospital while his wife and two children are living with neighbors. The $6,000 trailer and all their belongings are gone.

Praise Mamie For Courage During Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the third time in 26 months, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower is watching over a sick husband.

Vice President Nixon described as "courageous" her action Monday night in attending a state dinner for King Mohammed V of Morocco, after President Eisenhower had suffered a mild stroke.

"I sat by her and I know under what stress she was," Nixon said.

But last night, Mrs. Eisenhower joined the ailing President in dining from trays and watching television for a couple of hours in their White House living quarters.

In advance of the Monday night dinner, the White House had announced only that Eisenhower had suffered "a chill." But it was disclosed yesterday that tentative diagnosis already had been made of a blockage of a small brain artery—commonly called a little stroke.

Nixon, who escorted the First Lady to the dinner, commented: "I might say that Mrs. Eisenhower's performance last (Monday) night, . . . knowing what she knew, was as courageous as I have ever seen by anyone. It was perhaps the most difficult time she has ever had."

No state functions interferred during Eisenhower's previous illnesses—a heart attack in Denver in September 1955 and an ileitis

German Head of State Visits Pope Pius XII

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII and President Theodor Heuss of West Germany met today in a historic audience—the first such meeting between a pope and a German head of state in half a century.

The President wore to the audience the papal decoration of the Golden Spur, given to him by the pontiff for the occasion. It is the highest Vatican decoration that can be given to a head of state who is not Roman Catholic.

The last German chief of state to call on a pope was Kaiser Wilhelm II, who visited Pope Leo XIII in 1903.

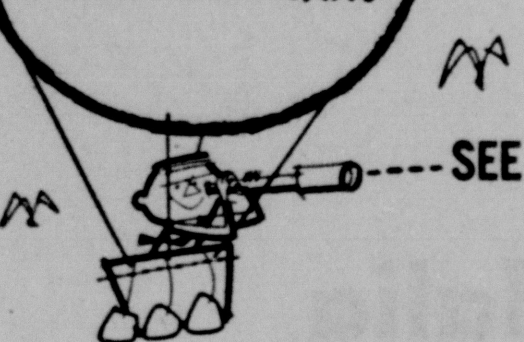

The Vatican clearly attached great importance to Heuss' visit. L'Osservatore Romano pointed out that it was the first by a German head of state since Germany's democratic affirmation and its cooperation with the democratic forces of Europe.

operation in June 1956. In each case, Mrs. Eisenhower took a room in the hospital to be near the President, and remained with him through convalescence.

She herself underwent an operation last August, remaining in Walter Reed Army Hospital here for 25 days.

How closely she will stay with the President in the White House apparently depends on how rapidly he recovers. Some scheduled events already have been canceled or postponed. The White House said there is no immediate information on what others may be changed.

Freezing Temperatures Grip Eastern Coast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Freezing temperature gripped the New England states area early today and the whole of the Eastern Coast, down to northern Florida, remained chilly.

Another cool air mass brought temperatures tumbling in the Northwest. The cool front extended to Montana and Wyoming. There were snow flurries in the northern and central Rockies and parts of Montana.

Southerly winds over the Mississippi Valley and the western Great Lakes accounted for a warming trend in the central portion of the country.

Our founding fathers braved the dangers of an unknown land for the precious freedom to live and worship as they pleased.

We pause today to count our many blessings as a nation of free people.

May your day with your families gathered around the festive board be a most pleasant one!

We Will Be Closed All Day Thanksgiving Day!
